

MA in Black Sea Cultural Studies

The MA in Black Sea Cultural Studies is a full time programme that lasts 12 months. It starts every October and costs 2.500 euros. Courses take place on weekdays, in the afternoon. During the first semester all students attend the same courses, whereas in the second semester they choose between 2 streams. The ARCHAEOLOGY-HISTORY STREAM or the POLITICS-ECONOMY STREAM.

To be considered for an MA programme, candidates are required to have a good university degree and transcripts from a recognized University, proof of English competence (Proficiency, recently acquired IELTS or TOEFL) and two academic references.

The application form can be downloaded on the following link <http://www.hum.ihu.edu.gr/index.php/courses/admissions>

The programme is launched by the School of Humanities of the International Hellenic University

The International Hellenic University is the first state university in Greece where all procedures and courses are in English.

The School of Humanities develops programmes of study and relevant research of excellence that address issues of significance in our society and especially those of particular relevance for the region of SE Europe.
